Bank of San Francisco Director Roberta Achtenberg Shares Insight as Member of President Obama's Transition Team

SAN FRANCISCO – (Feb. 4, 2009) – Roberta Achtenberg, a member of the Bank of San Francisco Board of Directors, shared insight into her experience on President Barack Obama's transition team during a bank-sponsored breakfast today at The Olympic Club.

Achtenberg led the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Agency Review team for the transition of President Barack Obama. The nine member review team, consisting of HUD veterans, academics and industry professionals, performed a thorough review of budget, business practices, statutory authority and regulatory matters.

In her role on the transition team, Achtenberg gained insights regarding the administration's approach to stimulating economic recovery, foreclosure mitigation, sustainable development and job creation.

Achtenberg was an Assistant Secretary for the Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity and a Senior Advisor to HUD Secretary Henry G. Cisneros during the Clinton Administration. Currently a workforce and economic development consultant, she is a former member of the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco Board of Directors and the San Francisco County Board of Supervisors.
