Bank of San Francisco Names Industry Veteran, Jennifer Corr, as Chief Financial Officer

SAN FRANCISCO – Oct. 4, 2019 – Bank of San Francisco, the modern Bay Area community bank that supports the entrepreneurial goals of people, businesses and nonprofits, announced today that it is expanding its leadership team with the appointment of Jennifer Corr as Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer. Drawing on more than 19 years of public accounting experience, Corr joins Bank of San Francisco, having held leadership roles at various accounting firms, including BDO USA, Perry-Smith and KPMG Audit.

"We are delighted to welcome such a well-versed addition to our leadership team. Jennifer brings a wealth of experience in accounting, financial services, fintech, consumer products, manufacturing, distribution and retail," said Bank of San Francisco President, Wendy Ross.

In addition to her role as CFO, Corr also serves as Chair and Secretary of the Investment Committee and Asset Liability Management Committee, Corporate Secretary and Secretary of the Executive Committee. She earned her Bachelors of Science degree in Accounting from Pepperdine University and is a licensed Certified Public Accountant.

"I've been a long-time admirer of Bank of San Francisco. The bank is well-run, with an entrepreneurial culture and sound regulatory standing. Most of all, I value the bank's focus on community stewardship," said Bank of San Francisco CFO, Jennifer Corr.
